

PET GO KIT

To be able to evacuate quickly in case of emergency, have these items ready to go for each pet in your family.

If it's not safe for you, it's not safe for your pets.

That's why it's important to make pets part of your emergency planning.

There are many reasons you might need to evacuate, from weather hazards, to earthquake or fire, to a community disaster like a chemical spill.

By developing a plan that includes your pets, you can keep them safe and make sure you have everything ready if you need to leave quickly.

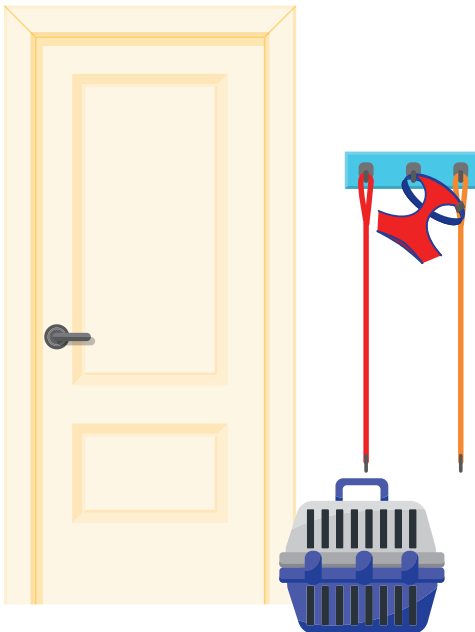

Use this checklist to create a “pet go kit” so you can grab-and-go while knowing you have all the items your pet needs...

BONUS TIP:

The Benefits of a Pet Emergency Card

Make sure your pets will be cared for in times of need with a pet emergency card.

If something happens to you, a wallet card can alert authorities that you have a pet at home.

If something happens at home when you're away, a window card tells first responders that one or more pets are inside and need help.
